KENOSHA – The City of Kenosha will host a public meeting regarding the Kenosha Innovation Neighborhood (KIN) from 5 to 8 p.m. Tuesday, May 4 at the former Brown Bank building, 2222 63rd St. There will be a brief presentation at 6 p.m.

The City of Kenosha is developing a master plan for the KIN and is seeking public input on the project, encompassing the 107-acre former Chrysler site located between 52nd and 60th Streets, east of 30th Ave.

Participants will have the opportunity to learn more about the project and provide input on goals and priorities to help shape the KIN master plan. Those involved in the innovation neighborhood may include residents, non-profit agencies, faith-based and community groups, students, teachers, entrepreneurs and businesses.
