Michael Scott

Sometimes it's about being in the right place at the right time... just ask Michael Scott. A chance meeting with Garth Brooks and Tracey Lawrence seeing Michael perform proved to be an influence on his career.

Serendipity

Last year, for the very first time "Serendipity" performed at PB&J. Since then this Chicago based band has returned to Kenosha for three more shows and each time their fan base continues to grow. If you haven't caught these five very talented teenage girls, you're in for a big surprise.

Haley Klinkhammer

She continues to build a strong following as evidenced with her recent performance at PB&J. And now just back from two weeks in the recording studio, her fans have something more to look forward to this fall when Haley releases her new CD.

Mixed Company

This year at the Walgreens Kenosha Civic Veteran's Parade, thousands saw had heard "Mixed Company" perform in the first ever "Mobil Battle Of The Bands." Mixed Company impressed many, coming within a handful of votes of taking the top prize.

Kevin Denny

In 2001 Kevin Denny made his country music debut with his self-titled album "Kevin Denny." It produced three chart singles on Billboard including "That's Just Jessie." Which peaked at number 16 on the Hot Country Singles Charts. Denny has co-written tracks with Tracy Byrd, Craig Morgan and Easton Corbin.

Yabba Griffiths

Many consider him to be the hardest working man in Reggae. He was inducted into the Reggae Walk of Fame in 2009. From a young age living in Kingston, Jamaica, would influence and mold him into a multi-talented musician whose repertoire would include vocalist, songwriter, arranger and producer.

Dominique Hutchinson

Hutchinson has proven herself as an accomplished country, R&B singer. It was her rendition of Aretha Franklin's "Chain Of Fools" that caught the attention of the judges in the regional finals of the ABC reality show "Karaoke Battle U.S.A." in 2011.
